The Princes Room

GRAND WEDDINGS

Couples have been tying the knot at The Grand for generations, so we have a wealth of experience in creating the perfect wedding day and can assist you with every stage of the planning process and ensure it is completely stress-free.

For larger parties the Compton Room can be used in conjunction with Silverdale Room, Princes or Dukes Room depending on your party requirements.

DEVONSHIRE SUITE (COMPTON ROOM AND SILVERDALE ROOM)

The magnificent awe inspiring Compton Room has definitely got 'the wow factor'. It is adorned with ornate plaster work dating back to the Victorian era when it was the hotel ballroom. It's eight stunning leaded stained glass windows provide a sensational backdrop whilst taking your vows or indeed for your wedding breakfast banquet.

After the 'Grandeur' of the day it's time for you and your party to relax a little and perhaps invite a few more family and friends to join in the celebrations. The Silverdale room lends itself to a more informal celebration with its intimate lighting and integral dance floor.

PRINCES ROOM

This 'fairy tale' of a room with its high ceilings and magnificent crystal chandeliers is arguably the most romantic room in the hotel. The muted tones of pink, green, gold and cream ensure that whichever colour theme you choose will be in keeping with the décor. It's floor to ceiling windows look out to the front of the hotel and garden terrace.

DUKES SUITE

This was originally the hotel library, with dark wood panelled walls to 3 sides and then the dramatic bay windows to the other which are dressed in sumptuous drapes. An additional door to the rear of the room offers the opportunity to make a traditional entrance down a central aisle.

THE GALLERY

For the more intimate wedding breakfast we are proud to be able to offer the most historic room in the hotel. This room would have originally been known as the 'Minstrels Gallery'. Towering above the infamous Great Hall where the Palm Court Strings would be playing every week whilst being broadcast live to the nation via radio, it really is a room fit for royalty. This totally unique setting provides your party with privacy hand in hand with the benefit of being seduced by the buzz and atmosphere of the Great Hall below.

A Mini-Moon can be your wedding night, the one or two days between your wedding and honeymoon, or a romantic getaway for those who prefer to take a longer break in the weeks or months after their wedding.

What could be a more romantic way to start your married life than with a luxurious and relaxing break at The Grand? From the minute you walk into your room, where chilled strawberries and Champagne await your arrival, you'll be cocooned in extravagant comfort. For those who like to truly escape, we can arrange for dinner and breakfast to be served in your room or you can join other guests with candlelit evening meals served in either of in our award winning restaurants.

Our romantic packages include a box of hand-made chocolates and Molton Brown gift on arrival, fresh rose petals scattered on your pillow at turndown, dinner, English breakfast and full use of our Health Club & Spa.

We look forward to welcoming you.

PRE AND POST WEDDING ARRANGEMENTS

As weddings aren't just about the big day itself we can offer you a host of ways to celebrate your forthcoming nuptials or post wedding events with friends and family.

We can stage themed weekends and short breaks with activities such as Spa days, wine or whisky tasting to powerboat rides along the coast and windsurfing lessons; alternatively you may wish to start the wedding celebrations early with a champagne afternoon tea, drinks reception, or private dinner for family and friends the day before.

The day after you say 'I do' relive the memories of the day with a champagne brunch for the wedding party in a private dining room.

These are just some suggestions and we would be delighted to tailor special packages to suit your individual needs.
